

Personal Support Worker

Learn how to provide safe, compassionate care to people who are ill, elderly or need help with daily tasks. Qualify for personal support worker positions in nursing homes, hospitals, and home-care companies.

Personal support workers (PSWs) help with tasks that people can no longer do on their own because of age, illness, injury, or disability. They often work with seniors in long-term care facilities, hospitals, or provide support to clients in their own homes.

Herzing's Personal Support Worker program is quick and comprehensive, with a strong focus on clinical skills and hands-on training.

🕒 Program Length: 8 months (20 hours/week)
Includes 11 week internship
